

ASHES OF THE LATE DR.
BALL ARE RECEIVED.

The ashes of the late Dr. J. K. Ball, whose body by his own request, made before his last illness, was cremated at Los Angeles two weeks ago, have been received by the El Paso Coffin and Casket company and will soon be placed in the receiving urn.

The casket containing the ashes is made of copper and weighs with its contents about ten pounds. It is hermetically sealed and bears the seal of the Evergreen cemetery company, where the body was incinerated.

Dr. Ball's body was the first ever cremated from this city. The coffin containing his remains was cremated with the body, only the handles and metal being taken off.
