

Tom Bell's Father Dies At High Rolls

(Special to The Times)

Alamogordo, N. M., Oct. 17.—J. E. C. Bell, 70, pioneer Otero county stockman-merchant and father of Tom Bell, Orogrande merchant, died at his High Rolls home this morning of internal injuries incurred when he fell over the sharp edge of a box while working in his apple warehouse a few days ago. Bell moved to Mayhill nearly half a century ago and was in business there until 10 years ago when he moved to High Rolls. He and another son, Charles Bell, went into business. Funeral services were held at Mayhill this afternoon.