

Pioneer Printer, One Time Foreman on Times, Dies

J. M. Cole, 62, pioneer printer of the southwest and one of the early settlers of El Paso, who for 20 years was connected with the mechanical department of the El Paso Morning Times, died at his residence, 3414 Tularosa street, yesterday morning, as a result of heart trouble. Mr. Cole was long the foreman of the composing room of the Times. He was a charter member of El Paso Typographical union, organized in 1901. He was one of the two members of the union on the pension roll.

Mr. Cole is survived by a son, Herbert Cole, and three daughters: Miss Lillian Cole, Mrs. H. W. Broadhus, of this city, and Mrs. M. Manatar, of Tucson, Ariz.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from St. Clement's Episcopal church. Rev. Fuller Swift will officiate. Burial will be in Concordia cemetery.
