

Aged Golfer Dies at 92

Mrs. Adah R. Hadlock, first president of the Southwest Women's Gold Assn., and author of "My Life in the Southwest," died yesterday. She was 92.

Mrs. Hadlock has been a resident of El Paso 73 years, and lived at 5020 Country Club place. She was the widow of the late Frank B. Hadlock.

Mrs. Hadlock was a member of El Paso Country Club. She had been active in her husband's gas and oil business and had spent a number of years seeking the "Adams Diggings," a gold mine.

Survivors are her grandchildren, Frank B. Walker, El Paso, and Mrs. Frankie Lynn Ramsey, Pecos, Texas; and seven grandchildren. Graveside services will be held tomorrow at 11 a.m. in Evergreen Cemetery. Rev. Gordon S. Bowie will officiate. Arrangements are by Kaster-Maxon and Futrell.
