

HILTON KILLED IN AUTO WRECK

Pioneer Merchant of San Antonio, N. M., Well Known In El Paso.

Socorro, N. M., Jan. 3.—A. H. Hilton was killed in an automobile accident near San Marcial, N. M., late Thursday. He was traveling alone when the accident occurred and nobody knows the particulars. Passing autoists discovered Mr. Hilton's lifeless body, pinned beneath his overturned car. He had just retired from the office of county commissioner of Socorro county.

Col. A. H. Hilton was well known in El Paso and accompanied the last trade excursion of El Paso people all the way through. He was a pioneer merchant of San Antonio, N. M., having lived there for about 35 years. Word received said he was killed in the overturning of the automobile in which he was riding from Socorro to Magdalena.
