CHARLES LESINSKY DIES IN NEW YORK

Charles Lesinsky, a brother of H. Lesinsky of the grocery firm of that name in this city, is dead in New York, according to advices which have been received in Santa Fe, N. M., according to the New Mexican. Mr. Lesinsky came to his death due to pneumonia contracted while bathing in the surf at New York last week. He came to the southwest in 1863 and first started in the grocery business at Belen and was later in the same business at Las Cruces. He had a number of mining interests in the southwest besides property in this city.
