

MRS. M'QUADE SONG ARTIST, DIES IN EL PASO

Mrs. Betty Ohls McQuade died Saturday morning at Providence hospital. She had been seriously ill a week. Her death was caused by high blood pressure. Not long ago she gave a concert in the Woman's club, which proved a most enjoyable treat to El Paso lovers of music.

Mrs. McQuade, who was a well known concert singer, had been in El Paso three months before her death, having come here from her home in Chatham, N. Y. She lived in El Paso during her childhood. She was the daughter of T. B. Ohlshausen, postmaster of El Paso 20 years ago, and was herself at that time a clerk in the registry division of the local postoffice.

MRS. BETTY OHLS McQUADE.

To Be Buried Here.

Her husband, Frederick McQuade, arrived in El Paso Thursday, summoned by his wife's illness. He was formerly a captain in the Australian army.

Besides her husband, Mrs. McQuade is survived by a brother, John Ohlshausen, of Fresno, Calif., and a sister, Miss Juanita Ohlshausen, of Chatham, N. Y. John is a prospector and miner and has some good properties in Sonora, Mex.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed. The body is at Peak-Hagedon undertaking company. Burial will be in El Paso.

Father Was Well Known.

Mrs. McQuade's parents both died after they left El Paso, some 18 years ago. Her father, before becoming postmaster, was connected with the El Paso smelter in the accounting department and was one of the best known members of the El Paso Gun club. He succeeded the late R. F. Campbell as postmaster and was succeeded in the office by J. A. Smith.