

MRS. MILLS' RITES SET FOR TOMORROW

Burial Will Be in Family Plot At Las Vegas

Funeral services for Mrs. Alice W. Mills, 78, wife of the late William J. Mills, former New Mexico chief justice and last territorial governor of the state, will be held at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow in St. Alban's Episcopal church with Rev. Malcolm Twiss officiating.

Following the service the body will be sent to Las Vegas, N. M., where burial will be held in the family plot. She will be buried beside her husband.

Mrs. Mills was born in Vancouver, B. C., on December 18, 1860. During her girlhood, she lived in Kingston, Canada. She was educated in Paris.

She was married to William J. Mills, January 14, 1885 and the couple moved to New Mexico the same year.

Mrs. Mills came to El Paso 14 years ago.

Mrs. Mills is survived by her daughter, a son, Wilson W. Mills, Detroit, Mich., a sister, Lillian Waddingham, Great Barrington, Mass., a brother, R. W. Waddingham, Brooklyn, New York, and by five grandchildren.

Honorary pallbearers at tomorrow's services will be Ballard Coldwell, Lawrence Koch, C. A. Williams, E. A. Abbot, Wayne H. Hamilton, Floyd Morrissette, Maj. Donald B. Sanger, Dr. F. O. Barrett, Howard Clary, Jas. A. Dick Sr., and Pelham Winter.

Active pallbearers will be: Dr. E. A. Duncan, O. W. Borrett, E. A. Cameron, J. D. Foster, Leonard M. Hanson, and W. R. Collins.

Services also will be held in St. Paul's Episcopal church in Las Vegas.