

AGED EL PASO LAWYER DEAD

Frank Greenville Morris, 71, attorney and resident here for 21 years, died today at his home, 921 N. El Paso. He had been in ill health for some time.

Before coming to El Paso, Morris was district judge in Austin. He practiced law in Alpine for three years. During the first years of his law practice here, Morris was law partner of Sam Gillett.

Morris' wife died here a few years ago. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. W. N. Sneed, of Las Cruces, and a brother, Milton, of Austin.

Masons will be in charge of the funeral at 10 a. m. Wednesday at Kaster & Maxon's chapel. Burial will be in Evergreen cemetery. Rev. Frank H. Fox will read the service.
