

A. J. PARKER FOUND DEAD

Was Known as "Paralyzed
Kid."

A. J. PARKER, 64, known among gamblers throughout the United States as "The Paralyzed Kid," was found dead in his room at Hotel Fisher early last night.

Hotel employes found Parker's body when they went to his room to investigate his failure to arise yesterday afternoon. They found him in bed, clad in his underclothing. He was last seen alive early yesterday morning.

Coroner A. J. Wilson ruled Parker died of natural causes after learning the man had been ill several months.

Parker was a lifelong resident of El Paso county. He is survived by his 90-year-old father, A. H. Parker, wealthy El Paso county landowner and former El Paso county surveyor.

Funeral arrangements are pending with Kaster & Maxon.
