
George F Reckhart.

George F. Reckhart, brother of Daniel W. Reckhart, of the Independent assay office, died at Hot Springs, Ark., Friday evening. The tidings were brought to his brother by a telegram received last evening. Mr. Reckhart's father was with him at the time of his death. Born in New York 32 years ago, Mr. Reckhart finished a course of schooling at Columbia university, and came west to follow the vocation of an assayer. He was chief assayer of the Commonwealth mine, Pearce, Ariz. He was often prominent in the gatherings of the McGinty club.
