

El Paso Woman Dies Of Burns In Airplane Wreck

Mrs. Georgie Trost, 34, wife of Leo J. Trost of the Franklin Automobile company, died at Rolston hospital at 4:30 o'clock Thursday morning, as a result of burns received in an airplane accident near Los Angeles last summer. Mrs. Trost was brought here from Los Angeles Wednesday afternoon, accompanied by Dr. A. Palmer of Santa Monica, Calif. She was taken at once to Rolston hospital, where her death occurred a few hours later.

Mrs. Trost, with Mrs. Edwin Greene, also of El Paso, was riding in a Commercial airplane when the engine backfired and set fire to the plane. The women screamed but the pilot could not hear them for the roar of the engine and did not know that his plane was burning until he felt the heat. He immediately plunged the machine into the lake but not before his passengers were horribly burned. Mrs. Greene died soon after and she herself received terrible burns which resulted in her death Thursday morning.

Mrs. Trost, who before her marriage was Miss Georgie Lambert, was born in Pontiac, Ill., 34 years ago. She received her early education in eastern schools and was a college graduate. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church in San Antonio. She is survived by her husband, a sister, Mrs. Charles Rowen, 206 Mesa avenue; her stepmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Lambert, of Chicago, and a half sister, Miss Edith Lambert, also of Chicago. Funeral arrangements have not been made although burial will take place in El Paso. The body was removed to a chapel at 506 Texas street.

Mr. Trost is quite ill as a result of the shock.
