

DEATHS AND BURIALS.

Nathan G. Weston.

Nathan G. Weston, better known, especially to the old timers, as "Fatty, the hack driver," died in this city yesterday afternoon following a general decline in health of several months. Lately, however, he appeared to be better and was around town considerably improved. But his improvement was not permanent, and the decline continued, resulting in his death. He was the oldest hack driver in the city and had been in El Paso for more than 25 years, most of which time he drove a hack. He weighed over 200 pounds and from this fact he derived his name. He was well known to old timers and was a member of the Pioneers' association. So far as known he has no relatives. He was 59 years old and was born in Wisconsin. The funeral will probably be held tomorrow afternoon, although the date has not been set definitely. It will be under the auspices of the Pioneers' society.
